Conflict of Interest Control and Management Policy

Thai Poly Acrylic Public Company Limited recognizes the importance of preventing conflicts of interest at all levels of business operations. This commitment promotes transparency, credibility, and trust among stakeholders. Managing conflicts of interest is one of the fundamental principles that the Company applies to ensure sustainable business operations.

The Company has established clear guidelines to prevent conduct that may lead to conflicts of interest. These include disclosure of relevant information regarding situations that may give rise to conflicts, careful review and approval of related party transactions, and ongoing monitoring to ensure that all operational processes comply with good corporate governance principles.

Directors and employees have a duty to report any actual or potential conflicts of interest to their supervisors or the relevant oversight function. The Company has established appropriate reporting and review procedures to prevent potential harm to the organization.

Violation of this conflict of interest policy may result in disciplinary actions, such as warning, suspension, or termination of employment. The Company is committed to fostering an organizational culture based on ethics and integrity among employees on an ongoing basis.

Effective conflict of interest management not only helps reduce risks to the organization but also supports sustainable business operations and strengthens stakeholder trust in the long term.
